End times, ready for the show of great signs
It's gonna be hard to know which way to go
Some teach and what they say it's true
Some preach and the power of God shines through

But then there'll be a few expensive sheepskins
Money-minded smile
(On his)
Chiny-chin chin
Still some will follow

You gotta open your eyes
You better know who's making all the rules
Is he a man of God
Or just a baby with power tools?

You play follow the leader
No way you could ever be wrong
So you keep playing along
But he's lost, living in a lie
While your cost of giving goes sky high
For his piece of the pie

So take my hand
Just tell me what it costs
To see the Promised Land
I'm getting sleepier

You gotta open your eyes
You better know who's making all the rules
Is he a man of God
Or just a baby with power tools?

You gotta open your eyes
You better know who's making all the rules
Is he a man of God
Or just a baby with power tools?
