The night is getting darker still
The pictures I have held inside have never seen the worlds like this Until you said
Darling I'll take you tonight
Your heart will be the only thing that's keeping me
Alive, alive

The silence was enough to sleep
Your arms so warm around me I could swear it was a dream
Darling I'll take you tonight
The words were never written down but I could see them in
Your eayes, your eyes

One, your so far away
Two, I wanna stay by your side and daylight will break into sunny weather
If were together
The storm will wash away, the storm will wash away

Darling I'll take you tonight
Your heart will be the only thing that's keeping me
Alive, alive
