Hello

Girl's eyes, butterflies
How she cries? Can't get through to you
She knows all the charts
Breaks her heart, thinks a lot of you

Each time you play a melody
It means the earth to this little girl
Can you be cruel and break her heart?
Tear her small world apart

She's there, eyes aglow
Very front row, don't throw sticks at her
Please don't look her way
See her way, don't care anyway

It's you who led her on, I see
Just leave her down in her misery
She don't want help from you and me
Can't tell a note from a symphony

It's you who led her on, I see
Just leave her down in her misery
She don't want help from you and me
Can't tell a note from a symphony

Girl's eyes, butterflies
How she cries? Can't get through to you
She knows all the charts
Breaks her heart, thinks a lot of you

Each time you play a melody
It means the earth to this little girl
Can you be cruel and break her heart?
Tear her small world apart
