(feat. Jason Navarro from Suicide Machines)

Just like in New Orleans you are all now under marshal law
And what ever happened to America, land of the free?
Yea, But not me Give us your poor your tired your weak and while you're at it Give George Bush and his corporation, oops I meant his administration,
give them all of your money Cause, see they don't car about the poor They care about money and oil, which equals death and war
But we say now is the time to stand and fight, and take back our country from those in power I know they've got the guns but we've got the hopeless standing together and take back what's ours

[Aaron]
Somebody screaming something, nobody seen it coming
The streets are bleeding and all you can see is people running
These are the repercussions
The pledge of allegiance doesn't mean you have your freedom cousin,
that shit to me ain't nothing
I ain't gonna bow down to no man, no flag Shit I'll take my own stance, solute myself with both hands
This land is your land
This is for me and mine, so let my people shine Fuck your folks man

I represent the voices of the weak and poor Getting exploited for the need for more And usually all the greedy whores turn their back on my community to go compete in wars

This is the state of the nation

They got your neighbor at the station
This is the state of the nation
They got your neighbor at the station
This is the state of the nation
They got your neighbor at the station
This is the state of the nation

[Nick]

Outcast in the streets
First thing people see Light brown skin tone and my shiny gold teeth
Just like that call me black trash What the fuck you staring at Dirty Skeet, busting back
Read it in the newspaper, just another casualty Institution life, hard times follow after me Fuck incarceration
Stuck growing up to be lost in the system brainwashed by the enemy

[Aaron]

They don't give back nothing to the lower class And tell that I'm supposed to vote for that Nigga I'm here to put an end to the joke
I'm not a thug motherfucker, I'm a symbol of hope

This is the state of the nation
They got your neighbor at the station
This is the state of the nation
They got your neighbor at the station
This is the state of the nation
They got your neighbor at the station
This is the state of the nation
This is the state of the nation
