You couldn't tell a better lie
When I feel like this I want to die
I'll tell you now, I used to have something
But you'll realize, you've left me here with nothing
Your hair will fall down on your face
Then I am left to stay in outerspace
YOU!
You burned me down & left me undone
I got caught when I was on the run
Broken-down I'm on cold blood
Never again will I give you my love
Half-passed time, I need to leave
Your love is something I no longer need
Ripped & torn about, throughout my head
You say these things are better left unsaid?
