Aw man! Put that ol' dumb horn down
Hey, Jazzy, Jazzy
Show this boy what some real music 'posed to sound like
He-he-ha! 1 2 3 4
Now that's a record!
Now that's a record!
Go Jazzy, go Jazzy, go

I want to be remembered for the songs that I sing
Not only for the humor, but for the knowledge I bring
To broaden the horizons of others is why I rap this Enlightening minds with my lyrical tactics

In life everything ain't always what it seems
But people are enchanted by things that gleam
You know, bright fancy cars, big yachts and mansions
On the beaches of Aruba with a girlie romancin'

Now I'm about to tell you a very interesting fable
More fun than when you first got cable
The moral to be learned from this story to be told
Is that everything that glitters ain't always gold

On July the 11th, I was sittin' at home
Talkin' to my girlfriend Geena on the telephone
Flippin' through the newspaper checkin' the news
When I saw an advertisement for a Carribean cruise

It said, "Sunny skies and romantic nights
On an incredible ship", and I got hype
It said, "It's like the Love Boat baskin' in the sun Promisin' fun for you and for everyone"

I said, "That's dope baby, you're down?"
She said, "Yeah we could leave right now"
The very next day I put the check in the mail
And one week later we were ready to sail

The brochure was said that the boat was large
But it was nothin' but a broken-down barnacle barge!
And if it wasn't for my girlfriend, I wouldn't a went

Because the captain was a cross-eyed hunchback with a limp

The cruise was paid for and the food was free
So I said what the hell and set out to sea
It didn't take long to notice something was wrong
The ship was a mess and we were the only ones on it

I didn't wanna panic, so I chilled for a while Till the captain pulled up on what we thought was a deserted isle
We looked on to the beach and almost went bezerk
We saw 300 natives with spears and grass skirts!

They said, "Hung-a-dung-a-digi-dung-da-do"
I said, "Hey baby, I guess that means get off the boat"
Their chief said they needed a human sacrifice
I said, "Well, just take my girl he-he psyche"

I was jokin', but things got serious
Their leader came out and he was furious
He got in my face and his breath was the worst
I said, "Hey baby, you got some mints in your purse?"

His breath was stinkin' with dooky brown teeth
And two big crusty ashy hairy feet
The worst thing, he had no toenail on his toes
And a big Tera dactyl bird bone in his nose

I tried to reason with him, he wasn't with it
He said, "Tenga-shanko," that meant forget it
He said, "Gunga-shang-tang-da-bong-da-boo"
That meant 'tonight we're having Fresh Prince stew

Then I saw it, no it's not
The big Indiana Jones people cooking pot!
I wanted to fight 'em, but there was no way to beat 'em
I thought to myself, "Where's Tarzan when you need him?"

Just as they were contemplatin' cookin' us up
We had a major stroke of luck, a Navy ship pulled up
The troops came off and they got us out of the pot
And I said to the chief, "Yo, I get with ya, hops!"

The guy that rescued us said, "I hate to tell you
The captain of your ship, he had just escaped from Bel view
We've been following him and finally we got him
We're sorry, there's no way that you can possibly get a refund"

A thousand dollars and a weekend down the drain
But a lesson well learned, so let me explain
There's a very important message that needs to be told
It's that everything that glitters ain't always gold
