Why do my thoughts loom so large on me
They seem to stay, for day after day
And won't disappear, I've tried every way
But she smiled sweetly
She smiled sweetly
She smiled sweetly
And said don't worry
No, no, no, no

Where does she hide it inside of her
That keeps her peace most every day
And won't disappear, my hair's turning grey
She smiled sweetly
She smiled sweetly
She smiled sweetly
And said don't worry
No, no, no, no

That's what she said so softly
I understood for once in my life
And feeling good most all of the time
But she smiled sweetly
She smiled sweetly
She smiled sweetly
And said don't worry
No, no, no, no
No, no, no, no
No, no, no, no
