Feeling so strange, I'm seeing you clearly now.
Your beauty's deadlier everyday.
All these people, am I the only one who
Found you out?
Is no one willing to say,
Willing to say, willing to say...

Why don't you slow down,
Turn your head round.
Been treading on hearts,
That are giving in, with a little...

Grace - you're getting away with it.
Words - but nothing to say with it.
You smile - and take what you need
In any way that you please.

Isn't it a shame,
You've nothing to show for these
Lies - I told you you'd pay for it.
Lonely are the days of your life.

You spoke in rhymes and rhythms,
The sweetest sounds.
They drew me in like a moth to a flame.

Oh oh...

All these people you hurt along the way
Will haunt you now.
Cos things are going to change,
Going to change, going to change.

Why don't you slow down,
Turn your head round.
Been treading on hearts
That are giving in, with a little...

Grace - you're getting away with it.
Words - but nothing to say with it.
You smile - and take what you need
In any way that you please.

Isn't it a shame,
You've nothing to show for these
Lies - I told you you'd pay for it.
Lonely are the days of your life.

You're beginning to lose.
Things are fading in front of your eyes.
You've a long way to fall
Before you even realise,
That this loneliness hurts.
Lonely will be the days of your life.

Oh oh oh...

Grace - you're getting away with it.
Words - and nothing to say with it.
You blame - but you're not ashamed of it.
Hurt - you don't feel the pain of it.

Lie - straight in the face of it.
Your mind - you should be afraid of it.
Your grace - you're getting away with it.
Nothing to get in my way.

With a little,
Grace - you're getting away with it.
Words - and nothing to say with it.
Lonely are the days, of your life.

Lonely are your days.
You lie - straight in the face of it.
Your mind, your mind, should be afraid.
You're heading for trouble.
Hey hey hey...
Yeah...
