"Cold November Wind"

A cold November wind can cut right through your soul Even leaves all hide away from the wind November blows

And after all the warmth of the summer and the fall
Cold November wind cuts the deepest of them all
A cold November wind will catch you by surprise You think you're safely wrapped in love till the wind begins to rise

And after all the warmth of a love that had it all A cold November wind is the hardest way to fall We wonder why love seasons change when did the chill
begin

Perhaps our love was swept away by a cold November wind

[guitar]

And after all the warmth of the summer and the fall

Cold November wind cuts the deepest of them all
We wonder why love seasons change when did the chill

Perhaps our love was swept away by a cold November
