If I had the heart of a clown
I'd laugh every time you made me blue
If I had the heart of a clown
You wouldn't see me cry the way you do

And I'd paint a smile upon my face
Each time you hurt me so
My arms could long for your embrace
But you would never know

And I'd sing as my dream world tumbled down
If I had the heart of a clown

And I'd paint a smile upon my face
Each time you hurt me so
My arms could long for your embrace
But you would never know

And I'd sing as my dream world tumbled down
If I had the heart of a clown
If I had the heart of a clown
