I fell too hard and much too deep in love with you
And I let you come and go at will it seems
But you're back again this time you say forever
But I wonder, just how long forever means

How long, is forever this time?
How long, until one night, you don't come home again?
How long, is forever this time?
How long, until I'm all alone again?

People say, I'm foolish when I take you back
And it could be they're right, but who can say?
You'll be welcome here within my arms forever
Even when forever ends for me today

How long, is forever this time?
How long, until one night, you don't come home again?
How long, is forever this time?
How long, until I'm all alone again?

How long, is forever this time?
How long, until one night, you don't come home again?
How long, is forever this time?
How long, until I'm all alone again?
How long, until I'm all alone again?
