I don't feel anything what was I worried for I don't feel love or hate or anything that I felt before
Why was I so afraid of seeing you again?
'Cause it's the strangest thing, I don't feel anything

How I must have loved you once upon a time
And I can't seem to feel emotion now of any kind
Why was I so afraid of seeing you again?
'Cause it's the strangest thing I don't feel anything

You look the same as always, time's been good to you
But I must confess that time has done a few things for me too
Why was I less afraid of seeing you again?
'Cause it's the strangest thing, I don't feel anything
But it's the strangest thing I don't feel anything
