misery mansion so old and so gray you looked so lonely since she went away misery mansion what secret you hide of a love that has faded and died misery mansion oh how you changed your walls hold the sorrow that loneliness brings a love of a life time for ever is gone misery mansion my home

break

you know all the reasons why she said goodbye and you stand there in silence while i sit and cry misery mansion we're both so alone
