All my tears have fallen, I can cry no more
I've cried so much since you have said goodbye
The pressure keeps on building up, within my heart
It grows and grows but still, my eyes are dry
Though my heart is breakin', tears refuse to start
So I've got to find a new way to cry

I've got to find a new way to relieve the pain
It just can't stay, forever, locked inside
And until I forget you and can smile again
I've got to find a new way to cry

I've got to find a new way to relieve the pain
It just can't stay, forever, locked inside
And until I forget you and can smile again
I've got to find a new way to cry
