I come home last Saturday morning
I come home and found you gone
Well, there was a note tacked on my door
Said your baby don't love you anymore

Well, I got dressed up and I went downtown
I got dressed up and I went downtown Well, I walked up and I walked down Well, there weren't no love there weren't no love around

There weren't no love around, there weren't no love
around
There weren't no love around, there weren't no love
around
There weren't no love around, there weren't no love
around
There weren't no love around, there weren't no love

Well, I come home and I lay down
I felt my head spinning round and round Lord, I poured my dreams
And I drank 'em down no there weren't no love

There weren't no love around
There weren't no love around
