There goes a man
Who gave his heart to someone
And I feel sorry for him
For that someone
Just gave her heart to me
Now he's the loser
And it hurts so much to lose
And I feel sorry for him
Cause the loser I know
Could have been me
Oh how he loved her
I'm sure he must have loved her
Almost as much as me
But fate has frowned on him
Then turned around and smiled on me
There goes a man
Who gave his heart to someone
And I feel sorry for him
For that someone
Just gave her heart to me
If things were different
And if he had won
Her love instead of me
I wonder if he'd find the time
To offer sympathy
There goes a man
Who gave his heart to someone
And I feel sorry for him
Cause that someone
Just gave her heart to me
