Waiting for my entrance
Blowing past the street signs
Missing every other turn
Still getting there on time

Staring into loop holes
Faking every short cut
Knowing that my very best
Is on the other line

This is everything
Everyone you ever knew
Everywhere you ever went
Looking back at you

Tripped up on a green light
Waiting there for nobody
The future that I left behind
Standing in the way

What about the third time
Hanging in a long line
For a shimmer on a shoulder blade
Won't you give me a sign

This is everything
Everyone you ever knew
Everywhere you ever went
Looking back at you...
Staring back at you
