With pen in hand I try to write this note to you I know now where I stand but what am I to do I've found so many things to say since we're so far apart

How can I write on paper what I feel in my heart
How can I write on paper what I'm feeling deep inside

Words to you would last no longer than it takes the ink to dry
A love as sweet as yours and mine deserves another start

How can I write on paper what I feel in my heart [ steel ]

Those simple things you gave are worth the world to me
And each of them I claim you can't take memories So many things were left unsaid I don't know where to start
How can I write on paper what I feel in my heart
How can I write on paper...
