A million violins could never sound sweeter than your name

Hold me close and tell me baby tell me you're not a dream

The wind of love has picked me up and span me around in a whirl

Baby you're the sunshine of my world

The little things you do like running your fingers through my hair

Brings on a burning fever almost too warm to bear
If love was treasure I would have the world's most precious pearl

Baby you're the sunshine of my world

Up on the mountain top we'll build the cabin and move in to stay

A livin' on mountain with love from day to day

And if I ever get to feelin' your sunshine slippin' away

Then baby I want you to touch your lips to mine and make a little sunshine

Each day the skies above change into a bluer blue

Each day a little more sunshine is shining up from you

A tear of joy reminds me I'm the world's most fortunate girl

Baby you're the sunshine of my world

Yeah baby you're the sunshine of my world

Oh baby you're the sunshine of my world
