

Winter Rage "Winter Age"

Hear the sound of raging wind
New era is getting near
To cleanse the world of human plague
For evil they have done

Hear the song of flowing river
Can't you read the signs?
All they've done will be repayed
As time passes by

Gods of ancient time
Unleash your mighty wrath
Release the winter once again
And crush their bones to dust
A new order will arise
From ashes of olden world
And once again the star will shine
Enlighting the newborn world

Red dawn is rising fast
And all the life it presents
But sun will never shine the same
Upon this scorched earth

As ground starts to tremble
Icicle storm appears
Freezing all in it's way
Life fades away...
