You lose yourself in the midst of the world
My heart weeps at the sight of it all
Your soul can fade so far away
To never return from that place

That night God made Himself so real
Faded of teared acceptance
Did he reside in your heart
The way you claimed he did?

I weep for I fear I'm guilty of this
I cry for I fear your heart has hardened
I cry for I feel I am the reason
I weep for I fear I'm guilty of this

Don't you know your soul will live forever?
It's up to you, who you choose to worship

Don't you know that He died for you?
So you could live
My heart weeps for you
