One day laser beams will cure my sight
Negative 5
Is pretty much blind
I want to see thingsâ€¦ you know
Stare so deep into the laptop light
Sip your coffee and stare
Like you got something to say
But you can't say it because it just ain't there anymore
The vague premonition flexed in its might Conversed with absolute time
And space and time
And space and time and space
And nothing really matters anymoreâ€¦.

You can't say it, don't ever to say it
Its not tangible its not even relevant
A warm hand, a short skirt
A soft blanket, a trusty appliance
A 57 in mathematics and science
An oxygen mask,
They stick it and they'll never come back
They'll never come back
They'll never come back anymore
Are you with me and am I wrong?
(Am I wrong?)
These silly old songs, do they mean anything or am I just wrong
Am I just wrong, Am I just wrong
How did I ever get so god damn dumb?
A foreign lick from a familiar tongue
Its not one you love
But its familiar enough
Mouth full of teeth chewed up and spit on the ground
When I speak, are my words just white naked sound?
Carelessly rendered and scattered around
Random, animal
Clumsily stitched together
Forever alien and forever altered
Flowing in absolute time
And space
And time and space

And time and space
And nothing else really matters anymoreâ€¦
