"A Kingdom A Child"

I have the strangest dream last night about a melt of space and time a kingdom and a child, it's so familiar

If anything could turn back time I wouldn't change a thing in my life but it's time for me to know a jump into the past

What happened to the world
that once was my sweet home?
Nothing will left to be the same
I'll find the answers to the questions
in my head
It's there a happy ending?
I hear you calling my name?
I will search the whole world to find you everyday I'm getting closer to the truth

Sometimes I feel so confused and life is such a mystery take me back where I belong I really wanna know

What happened to the world
that once was my sweet home?
Nothing will left to be the same
I'll find the answers to the questions
in my head
It's there a happy ending?
I hear you calling my name?
I will search the whole world to find you
everyday I'm getting closer to the truth

Tell me the story of my life
about a kingdom and a child

Tell me the story of my life
about a kingdom and a child
