I've been down, but not out, because I am strong
And I will stand for what's right to me.
I can't take no more, just standing right back,
Letting you walk over me.

Because this is my time and I will shine.
I'm not like you, I see right through and all that you do.
It's not right but that's you,
Don't even know what's coming for people like you.

I can't stand to watch,
I'm not wasting time to see me through,
I don't fucking need you and all that you do.

I won't hold my breath,
Because you had your chance but it's gone and it's dead.
This is all I have left and it's all that I need.
A promise kept true.

You got something to say mother fucker... SPEAK
