"Final Destination"

The loss of a loved one
Upon meeting you i saw
The light burn black
And for that one moment i knew loss
This is the bitter taste of death
And this is not the first time
I thought i would die
And this is not the last time
I thought i would cry
The first time i died
The first time i cried
And in the end i wish i had
The final wave, wave good-bye
To all the things you love
Becasue you never know
When they are going to
Be taken away
And like that they just disappear
The bitter taste of death
