

Withered Earth "Real"

now that i am back out there once more scared misgivings haven't gone inside this human race
no touch of grace and still no place to go i know it's up to me to decide if this is real but i'm walking and fro always thinking about the ways i chose welcome back yesterday ... not far away ... i'll keep an eye on you tell me how could i forget all the angers i once had should i start again ... to find the same ... that i once left behind when tell me why should i forget all these dreams that i still have another time ... another turn, i thought but now i know that's wrong this life will still remain the same if i don't change a thing myself

i know it's up to me ...
