My heart beats fast again, only seems to flutter when you're around.
You seem to cycle a smile, that lifts me up often brings me down.
My blood runs through my veins, endorphin-caged companion.
I'll keep you by my side and dedicate you all my time.

You take all my problems, filter them up, then throw
them all away.
With the pleasure comes the pain that only you could
bring, cause...

You've been given all I have.
When you come around, I seem to give in.
In a fight I'll never win, cause all the while you're my favorite sin.

So, I salute you with both hands.
It's been bearable pain, but time well spent.
Never communicate, never say a word, always keep it in.

You take all my problems, filter them up, then throw
them all away.
With the pleasure comes the pain that only you could
bring, cause...

You've been given all I have.
When you come around, I seem to give in.
In a fight I'll never win, cause all the while you're my
favorite sin.

Although you often help me, you never know what's going on.
We seem to have our problems, but when I'm with you, I wake up.

You've been given all I have.
When you come around, I seem to give in.
In a fight I'll never win, cause all the while you're my favorite...

You've been given all I have.
When you come around, I seem to give in.
In a fight I'll never win, cause all the while you're my
favorite sin.

You're my favorite sin. (x4)
