Beside you I'd rather lay.
Just find myself here counting days.
Since you've been gone, I'd say things just aren't the same.
You've gone and taken a part of me.

I can still smell you in my room.
Although you're miles away.

Don't know where we are going.
Driving too fast, never know what you're thinking.
You've got a handle on that.
That smile you wear girl has got a hold on me.
I miss you now, but I can't wait baby till you get back home.

Sitting here waiting on your plane.
Forever what, it's only been twelve days.
While you were gone girl, I thought about this.
I'll keep those feelings bottled up with the rest.

I can still smell you in my room.
Although you're miles away.

Don't know where we are going.
Driving too fast, never know what you're thinking.
You've got a handle on that.
That smile you wear girl has got a hold on me.
I miss you now, but I can't wait baby till you get back home.

I can still smell you in my room.
Although you're miles away.

Don't know where we are going.
Driving too fast, never know what you're thinking.
You've got a handle on that.
That smile you wear girl has got a hold on me.
I miss you now, but I can't wait baby till you get back home.

I said I missed you, while you were gone.
