run, I fall, what ripped away, check my body
Was it body or soul
The darkness fades, fades to light Disappearing now, disappears from the night

And all these nightmares I once had as a child
The morning always came, it came too late What did my mind forget, forget to hide Could the nightmare be awake, I don't know

In or out, up or down, never know its an illusion Round and round, on and on, every day spins my confusion

Not again, not again, not again, this dream I can't awake
What is real, what is real, what is real, it's getting hard for me to take
What I need, what I need, what I need, a little somethin'
I rely
And the white sugar gently hides me
Oh the sweet sugar saves me, it's the room that confines me
Confines me...sweet sugar

Yesterday back and forth, broken door no longer opens Breaking down, need it now, mother's sugar always loves me

Not again, not again, not again, this dream I can't
awake
What is real, what is real, what is real, it's getting hard
for me to take
What I need, what I need, what I need, a little somethin'
I rely
And the white sugar gently hides me

confines me
