I'm living in memories
The way that it used to be
We tried but our try was in vain

Our love I can still recall
For overall I've cried
But the silence remained

Now the night is cold without you by my side
'Cause from memories I know I cannot hide
They're inside

Calling me, haunting me
I can't live with your voice in my mind
Calling me, chaining me
To my knees I face my future denied

Still living in memories
Old pictures of you and me

Stilled sighs of the days you were mine

I'm leafing through books that I keep
Deep inside my heart
Stories of you and I

Now the night is cold without you by my side
'Cause from memories I know I cannot hide
They're inside...

Deep in my heart I need you
Need you by my side
Though many miles are between us
And though no love can redeem us
I keep on hoping for a miracle
And that's you...
Stories of love to recall
