Right from an ancient time
Crawling through ages I might bring the light
Hiding in wrecked shrines
So that by pieces combined I could rise

The time has come, stare and behold
My shining coach of gold

Sinners and saints exchanging holy domains
Dark and light blending into me
Sentenced by thy pleas I have come
Say thy prayers

Those who can, join in my cast
'Cause forever the play is bound to last
Live the part you're to play, rise and decay
For the story I tell brings the light, believe me
Through a hundred thousand years I have come
And the pieces all combined merge into one
Sinners and saints, dark and light
And the play I've come to show is bound to last
For the day has come for me to bless the cast
Sinners and saints, dark and light

Fools shall be wise, sinners and saints arise
To redeem in delight
Dark and light blend into me
I will now ease you of pain
For I have come, rise and pray
