Cold, neon light -- eyes full of fright
A cellar room, flagstones on floor and walls whitewashed, no window
Maddening stench -- of moldiness
A simple table covered with a shabby piece of cloth

Single woman present, no one else
Terrified
Electrified

Your disgrace will be purged now
Narcosis takes effect
The needle penetrates your womb
Dark secret now erased Age of fifteen -- untouched you've been One night an unknown man descended you, assaulted you
Secret concealed -- no one involved Inquire a local midwife known for help, discrete and fast

Blood and tears falling to the ground
Terrified
Electrified

Unborn life so innocent, ended by unaware hand Distress forced to act, conscience ignored 'cause of shame
