(n. walusko - d. sahanaja)

I wanted to give my soul to you.

I thought I could feel you pulling me through.

The dna is pretty - you know it makes me smile.

The oxygen is plenty - don't touch that dial.

I thought I could make it, but only with you.

I wished I could bake it - if only I could.

The dna is pretty - you know it makes her smile.

The jellyhead is singing - don't ask her why.

Oceans old,

From a river flow,

Forever slip away...

I wanted to give my soul to you.

I thought I could feel you pulling me through.

The dna is pretty - you know it made me smile.

The oxygen is plenty - don't touch that dial.

The dna is pretty - you know it made her smile.

The jellyhead is singing - don't ask her why.

The dna is pretty - you know it made us smile.

The trilobite is swimming inside our mind.
