Took on the day in a melancholy way
Opened my eyes to cotton candy skies
What you're gonna do for me
Is crawl inside my head
And turn into an endless stream
And watch the sea turn red

But butterflies flutter by
The lemon drop jewel in the sky

What's with my love
I remember that she said
There's a note by the lantern
This what it read
Turn off your mind and wind
And see how high she glides
You'll never find yourself
If you never try

But butterflies flutter by
The lemon drop jewel in the sky
Lemon drop's burning up my eyes, my eyes
Gems of the antic to the ground
There taking me back down, down
Taking me back down down
Taking me back down, down

I'm drowning lead me into shore
No use in swimming cause that's What boats are for
Butterflies in my blue eyes
All inside my head
There's a lemon drop jewel in the sky
(burning bright)
There's a lemon drop jewel in the sky
(burning bright)
There's a lemon drop jewel in the sky
Burning bright at me
