(Projector Compilation)

My heart is ice housed inside my chest
Attic full of dreams
Every time i see you i'm such a mess
Oh you know what that means
You know what that means

You see everybody knows you
And everybody else knows me
You don't even know the goods you're missing
Every time look over me
I'm special you see

Screw this solitaire, to really play the game
You just enter to win
I can tell you that my prize
Is something sweet to have Something sweet to have

I'll be like a chain in your pocket
A lit up lightbulb socket
Your precious little rocket
Your precious little rocket

In my little house with the lights on
Very Late at night
You could throw some bottlecaps at my
Window then i'd know
I'd know it was you

You could give a little knock here
Just stop by to see
I'd so like to get to know you
And my house is empty
I'm here all alone

Hey help me open the curtains
And let's break the lock on the door
We could smash all the windows
And bulldoze the floor
We'd bulldoze the floor

I'll be like a chain in your pocket
A lit up lightbulb socket
Your precious little rocket
Your precious little rocket

I'll be like a chain in your pocket
A lined up and true lively sprocket
Your precious little rocket
Your precious little rocket
