Well there's one star shining for the morning time
One's gonna shine for the night
Oh for gold will your life get sold
Well how much silver for your prime

I met a bird and she said

Well there's one song you play for the gentlemen
One you sing for the gals
One little note will the girl get smote
Will the arrow be off by a mile

I met a bird and she said

Well there's one word you say when you meet someone
One you said when you part
All that's in between might well be a dream
A mind could speak the heart

I met a bird and she said
