Trying to figure this out
Its not as easy as it seems
Changing stories changing lanes
I need some stability
Comeing out into the open is playing on my mind
Im not one to hide away
But this is harder than it seems

its harder than it seems
Its harder than it seems

When you finally stop pretending
When you give it up to me
When you tell yourself he truth
Thats when you will be set free
When you finally stop pretending
When you give it up to me
When you tell yourself he truth

Challenges that you face everyday
Places that you go
You will never be able to overcome your fears unless you
Open up and face the competition
But its harder than it seems

No matter what i do
My wished dont come true
I try and try to make it through
But its so much harder, its harder
Its harder than it seems
