Hey-ya Hey-ya Hey-ya
There'll come a time
When your bones get weak
Your lungs get wheezy
And your knees start to creak
Your hands won't do what you tell them to
And your heart gives in to the beat of
Why-not-slow-down-and-die
But the breath of death may never come
If you tune in to the serpent hum
Visualize the cool blue light
Live again on the other side
Break the doors of perception down
No drugs required Eternal Now
The danger point brings out your best
Refuse to rest
And you will never die
Hey-ya Hey-ya Hey-ya Hey-ya
Snake Dance of the Old People

There's a secret There's a trick
Preserve your body and never get sick
Love from lust and joy from pain
Raise your sex up to the top of your brain
The highest point inside your dreams
Where the silence begins to scream
Live again on the other side
You're immortal
You will never die
And 1 and 2 and ebb and flow
And 3 and 4 and wax and wane
And 5 and 6 and be reborn
