This is as close as I can get to you
Quietly sharing what were going through
Annabelle Christie died today
Such a lovely sunny afternoon
Suddenly everything looks the way it should
I know that it might seem odd to say cause Annabelle Christie died today
Annabelle Christie died today
Now everything grey seems far away
When Annabelle Christie died I never felt so high
When she went she left us all with what love meant
Annabelle had a smile for everyone
She said that she thought of all the smiles to come
Annabelle Christie died today
Now all I can do is smile away
Annabelle Christie died today
Now everything grey seems far away
When Annabelle Christie died I never felt so high
When she went she left us all with what love meant
Annabelle is gone, everyone around is nurturing
Leaving me alone, telling me, "if I need anything"
Annabelles will left me with a bit of happiness
Annabelle Christie died today
Leaving me here so unafraid
When Annabelle Christie died I never felt so high
When she went she left us all with what love meant
