"La Paloma Goodbye" lyrics:

The night my mother sang when I was a kid
The story of a lost ship and a white bird
One day the boat went straight to the ocean
And one with a heart full of love a girl waits
The sailor said, "do not forget I love you"
The winter and spring it still awaits
She sees a white bird landing near her
Who wore a few words in the palm of his wing

La paloma adieu, adieu it's you that I love
My life goes but do not be too much trouble
Oh my love adieu!

La paloma adieu, adieu it's you that I love
My life goes but do not be too much trouble
Oh my love adieu!

It takes all his heart against the beautiful white bird
All they have two left right to the ocean
Love never dies I saw two doves
Fly to the sea and as night falls
La paloma adieu, adieu it's you that I love
My life goes but do not be too much trouble
Oh my love adieu!
La paloma adieu, adieu it's you that I love
My life goes but do not be too much trouble
Oh my love a
