Too young to die

This life isn't quite all day life
In fact it can put you up and bring you down the same time
And I tend to see mostly darker sides of me
But we're too young to die my friend

I find it takes a few long hard nights
To accept it that maybe I'm only pretty seen through your eyes
Still we should never doubt ourselves again
Cause we're too young to die my friend

Comes a time that you and I will find the things we need so badly
We'll be waves that crash upon a distant beach
Growing up to see the deeper meaning
Easy as can be

This life has never really put you down
It just sometimes made sure that both your feet were on the Ground
So don't ever be discouraged by that again
Cause we're too young to die my friend

need so badly
We'll be waves that crash upon a distant beach
Growing up to see the deeper meaning
Easy as can be
