The game is set up

The dice have been thrown

Choose your character and start right in

Beginners pick stereotypes, professionals will customize

But it's all within the limits, no way to be yourself

This is just an rpg

A scheme to rule your life

Shifted to reality

To blind your eyes and blind your mind

No matter which way you choose

The plot remains the same

It has been optimized to run on any system

There's no requirements, it fits to any shape

Results are predefined

Just throw the dice again

This is just an rpg

A scheme to rule your life

Shifted to reality

To blind your eyes and blind your mind
