You finally moved to the suburbs, away from crime and filth

You got a house alarm and you feel much safer with no guilt

Every morning you drive Jimmy and Jane to school

You watch them walk inside, pick them up right on time, and everything seems fine

There is no way to protect your family

One day Jimmy was never there; they never even found him!

They did find Jane though, in 34 different pieces, spread across the county

There is no way to protect your family!
