Have you ever heard the sounds
In the shadows of a song
Have you ever felt their words
Blow right through you from beyond

'Cause years pass and people change
The bluest skies can turn to gray
And though it's gonna hurt for now
Every ship must sail away
Every ship must sail away

Oh change is in the air
And you wear it oh so well
I asked you if you cared
But if you cared I couldn't tell

'Cause years pass and people change
The bluest skies turn to gray
And though it's gonna hurt for now
Every ship must sail away
Every ship must sail away

And though it's gonna hurt for now
And though it's gonna hurt for now
And though it's gonna hurt for now
Every ship must sail away

Every ship must sail away
Every ship must sail away
Every ship must sail away
Every ship must sail away
