Haven't heard from you in days
I'm spreading thin what I've got taped
And I've come down from your highest ties
Now what the hell am I supposed to say?

Whoa, I know it feels like I let you down
But I'm still a round

If you can't find a way to reach me
Take your time, I could be underneath you
And looking up to see you, from where we used to hide
From where we used to hide

Busy writing thoughts tonight
A message sent with no reply
You used to hang on my every word
Now they never come out right

Whoa, I know it feels like I let you down
But I'm still a round

If you can't find a way to reach me
Take your time, I could be underneath you
And looking up to see you, from where we used to hide
From where we used to hide

You are invisible in this
You're too caught up in what you missed
So spend what I gave, I give you more
You are invisible in this

If you can't find a way to reach me
Take your time, I could be underneath you
And looking up to see you, from where we used to hide
From where we used to hide

If you can't find a way to reach me
Take your time 'cause I am underneath you
Looking up to see you, from where we used to hide
From where we used to hide
