I love you just because you are a pretty girl with Pretty eyes and pretty smile. I don't think about
All those silly things and silly thoughts that try to Change the happier within our dreams.
I don't care for you, like a child feels when he meets
A friend and cries a lot and finds someone to take
The spot.

Cause there's not changing my attitude, there's no
Changing my feelings. The feelings I have for you.

I don't see just because you are in front of me and
Blinding my reality with radiant love.
I don't have concern of any other walking by me
Saying "Hi" to me. I tell em that I'm happily
Yours. And there's no changing my attitude.
There's no changing my feelings. The feelings I have for
You. I'm so happily yours.

I don't want you just because you give me everything
I wish to have. Your more than anyone could ask.
And I don't need to be, the only one you see.
Unless I'm all you ever wanted. More than
I may ever offered.

Cause there's not changing my attitude, there's no
Changing my feelings. The feelings I have for you.

I'm so happily yours.
