Another thing went wrong again.
You try to act happy but it's hard to pretend.
When someone questions you
It always bothers you.
Could this be a not good thing

If you could look 5 years down the road
And understand now what you are going to know
Or maybe you could learn to settle down
Or maybe you could try to have a better time right now Because no matter what, no matter what you do life
goes
On and on and on and on and on and on and on and on and on and on

The times they ain't so great
Getting all bent out of shape is just a waste of time
Everything will always be ok
As long as you let it turn out that way
And try to relax your mind.

If you could look 5 years down the road
And understand now what you are going to know
Or maybe you could learn to settle down
Or maybe you could try to have a better time right now
Because no matter what, no matter what you do life
goes
On and on and on and on and on and on and on and on
and on and on

If you could look 5 years down the road
And understand now what you are going to know
Or maybe you could learn to settle down
Or maybe you could try to have a better time right now
Because no matter what, no matter what you do life
On and on and on and on and on and on and on and on
and on and on
