Two five zero five zero five
Tonight it feels so good to be alive
Oh boy have you heard the news?
Together we've blown away the blues

And through the empty fallow years
We kept singing and kept the faith
And through it all the hurt and tears
We kept singing, kept singing, we kept the faith

We'll never walk alone, we'll never say die
Together we will stand, we're an army
Ascending to the throne, we hold our heads up high
The world in our hands, we're an army draped in red

Again we've written our name into history
Against all odds and in the face of adversity
And from our darkest hour we emerge victorious
'Cause we kept singing and kept the faith

Buried and dead we rise again proud and glorious
'Cause we kept singing, kept singing and we kept the faith

We'll never walk alone, we'll never say die
Together we will stand, we're an army
Ascending to the throne, we hold our heads up high
The world in our hands, we're an army

How could I leave after a night
After a night, a night like this?
I've never known such sheer delight
I've never known such blinding bliss

We'll never walk alone, we'll never say die
Together we will stand, we're an army
Ascending to the throne, hold our heads up high
The world in our hands, we're an army draped in red
