

Yolandita Monge

"Must've Had Your Reasons"

Visit "Must've Had Your Reasons" on MotoLyrics.com

Must've had your reasons when you left without a call
I don't want you thinkin' that I shed too many tears
I never felt the need to cry for all the wonderin' why
I don't think love can ever feel that way again

I searched this whole town 'round for a whisper of your name
I don't need you thinkin' that you got the best of me
And it doesn't shame me that I spent a lot of time
Wonderin' if love can ever feel that way again

Chorus:
I wouldn't bet you're thinkin' 'bout me now
But that's all the same to me 'cause I don't think that much of you
Since those couple nights I spent alone,
Sitting home waiting for you to call
And you never called at all

The reason why I'm singin' this ain't that you done me wrong
It's not because I'm worried, I've left all that stuff behind
It's just I find it funny how you chose to treat a friend

[Chorus - x2]

A friend of ours has seen you and he said you're lookin' fine
He was talking 'bout your beauty and I was asking 'bout your mind
Besides it's not your face I find a-missin' in the end
I don't think love can ever feel that way again
I don't think love can ever feel that way again

Visit Yolandita Monge page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.