Ha, life is tough
But not for you, you fool

You always complain
Whether it's hot or it rains
I never see the sun shine from you

More of that, more of this
I don't see anything you miss
Your life, the way you planned it, didn't come true

You told me you were broke
This must be a joke
I see you at the restaurant all day

Do you think it's very funny
To say you have no money
And spend it like you spend your life away?

Life was too good to you
But you just celebrate, yeah
Don't ever hesitate, no
To complain, you fool

Life was too good to you
It's gonna bury your legs, yeah
And just break your neck, yeah
You gonna fall, you fool
Ha, you gonna fall

You drive down the road
Thinking your Mercedes is too old
Tomorrow you will buy a new car

You can always ask your father
If not, I'm sure your mother gives you money
But this time you won't get far, no

Next day new car is gone
At night they rob your home
They broke your arm while you tried to escape

When you be living in the street
Then you will finally say, "Life is great?"

Life was too good to you
But you just celebrate, yeah
Don't ever hesitate, no
To complain, you fool

Life was too good to you
It's gonna bury your legs, yeah
And just break your neck, yeah
You gonna fall, you fool

Life was too good to you
It's gonna bury your legs, yeah
And just break your neck, yeah
You gonna fall, you fool

Goodbye my friend, good luck
Now, it's much too late

Yeah, but sorry it's the end
It's time you complaining
Won't make you rich, my friend, no
